

Government of Western Australia
Department of Health

2025 | GradConnect

July 2025 to June 2026 start

Acknowledgement to Country and People

The Department of Health respectfully acknowledge the Aboriginal people of the many traditional lands and language groups of Australia. We value the wisdom of Aboriginal Elders both past and present and pay respects to Aboriginal communities of today.

Using the term – Aboriginal

Within Western Australia, the term Aboriginal is used in preference to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, in recognition that Aboriginal people are the original inhabitants of Western Australia. No disrespect is intended to our Torres Strait Islander colleagues, community, or candidates.

Foreword

WA Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer

2025|GradConnect is a state-wide annual recruitment process centrally coordinated by the Chief Nursing and Midwifery (CNM) Office. I am particularly proud of this process as it offers newly qualified enrolled nurses, registered nurses, and midwives the opportunity to apply, through a single portal, for graduate employment opportunities across participating public, private and aged care providers in Western Australia (WA).

The WA health care system is unique. Our health services offer a broad range of graduate programs spanning WA's public health care system in both metropolitan and regional locations. Opportunities to work in a wide range of clinical settings are available including specialty areas such as perioperative, community health and mental health.

As you begin your career in the health workforce and start serving WA's culturally diverse population, you will gain unique experiences that enrich your professional skillset. I encourage you to consider all your options, in both WA metropolitan and country health services to expand your capabilities and expertise.

The 2025|GradConnect handbook is designed to provide you with essential information and guidance throughout the application process. It will support your success in applying for a graduate program, helping you kick-start your career in a supportive environment where you will feel valued and satisfied in your role as a nurse or midwife.

Applying for a graduate position is an important and exciting milestone. I acknowledge your commitment to deliver safe, high quality, compassionate and equitable person-centred care for the entire WA community.

Dr Robina Redknapp

WA Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer

Introduction

What is GradConnect?

GradConnect is an online system, centrally coordinated by the Chief Nursing and Midwifery Office, that enables newly qualified enrolled nurses, registered nurses and midwives access to a wide choice of employment opportunities, through graduate (or transition to practice) programs.

Using just one application, you can apply for graduate employment in a supportive environment at all participating WA public, private and aged care health providers.

Graduate programs are paid programs offering hands-on experience and exposure to a variety of clinical settings. Graduate programs help consolidate theoretical learning, whilst developing critical clinical skills and professional judgement.

GradConnect is a competitive process, particularly in large metropolitan hospitals and health services. Generally, more graduates apply at these sites, so it is recommended that you consider your options broadly. It is essential to be well organised and prepared for your application. This handbook has been designed to assist you in applying for a nursing or midwifery graduate position through 2025|GradConnect.

Important notes

- The recruitment process described in this handbook applies to the 2025|GradConnect process.
- Ensure that you read the 2025|GradConnect Handbook before applying online.
- Applications open at 9am (AWST) on 24 February 2025.
- Visit GradConnect for latest information and updates.

2025|GradConnect eligibility

To check if you are eligible to apply for 2025|GradConnect, you must be able to answer 'yes' to all of the below:

1. Be eligible for registration as an enrolled nurse, registered nurse and/or midwife with Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia \(NMBA\).
 - You must be registered before you commence your graduate program.
2. Be an Australian or New Zealand citizen, or an Australian permanent resident or a temporary resident with a valid visa and full-working rights for the duration of the graduate program.
3. Have completed your nursing and/or midwifery studies after 1 January 2024.
4. Have not previously participated in a nursing or midwifery graduate program in the designation to which you are applying, noting:
 - Registered nurses who have previously undertaken an enrolled nursing or midwifery graduate program are eligible to apply for a registered nursing graduate program.
 - Midwives who have previously undertaken an enrolled or registered nursing graduate program are eligible to apply for a midwifery graduate program.

Important notes

- If you have completed your nursing and/or midwifery studies after 1 January 2024, you can apply to 2025|GradConnect.
- If you are completing your studies after 28 February 2026, you can apply to the next GradConnect recruitment process (2026|GradConnect).

2025|GradConnect eligibility

Meeting English requirements

- To be eligible for initial registration, the NMBA requires all applicants to demonstrate English language skills, whether you completed your studies in Australia or overseas.
- Before applying for initial registration as a nurse or midwife, you are strongly advised to review what evidence is required to comply with the NMBA Registration Standards: English Language Skills.
- If you are required to complete an English language test, do so as early as possible. Proof of English language requirements must be given to your employer prior to your commencement date.
- For further information, please see the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency – English language skills.

Internationally Qualified Nurses and Midwives (IQNM)

- Nursing and midwifery students of other nationalities (i.e. non-Australian or New Zealand citizens) who are eligible for registration with NMBA, can apply for employment through GradConnect. You must have a valid visa and full working rights for the duration of the program.
- To find out more about initial NMBA registration as an IQNM, please see Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia – Internationally qualified nurses and midwives.
- For information about WA employment requirements within the public sector, please see Nurses and Midwives – WA Employment Requirements.

Important note

- Delays in employment will occur if your registration cannot be processed.

Supporting Aboriginal applicants

- WA Health is committed to growing the Aboriginal workforce and improving health outcomes for Aboriginal people.
- WA Health is committed to providing culturally safe and inclusive workplaces.
- We strongly encourage Aboriginal nurse and midwifery graduates to apply.
- Section 51 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1984 applies to all GradConnect vacancies in WA public health services.

Applicant support

The CNM Office offers candidate support for Aboriginal applicants applying through GradConnect.

To access this support, contact the GradConnect team at GNC@health.wa.gov.au

Assistance with your application is also available by contacting:

- Jobs and Skills WA on 13 64 64
- The Centre for Aboriginal Studies located at your university or education training institution.

Applying for 2025|GradConnect

Online applications

Applications for 2025|GradConnect will be open from 9am (AWST) Monday 24 February and close at 1pm (AWST) Wednesday 19 March 2025.

You can access the online application directly from our GradConnect webpage.

An 'Apply now' button will only appear during the application period mentioned above. There will be one icon (as below) for each application process i.e. enrolled nurse, registered nurse, and midwife. Please ensure that you click on the appropriate application link.

Apply now >

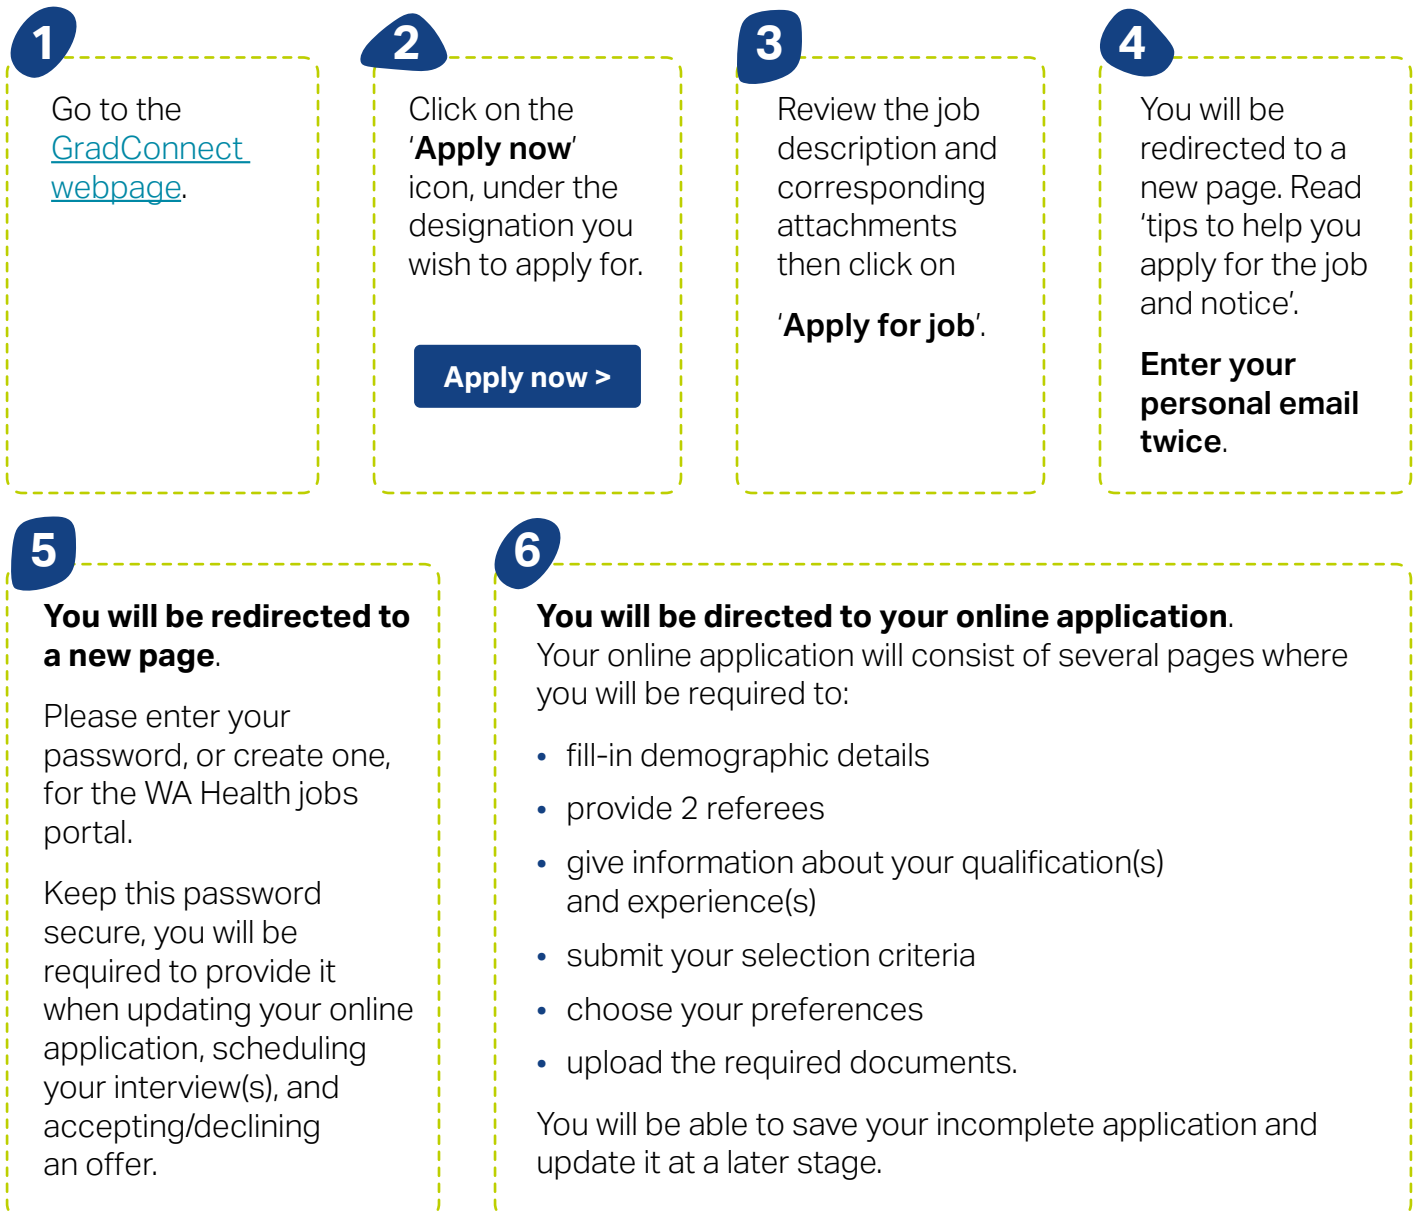

Do not leave your application to the last minute as the application process takes time to complete and late applications will not be considered.

For updates, visit the GradConnect webpage regularly.

Important notes

- 2025|GradConnect offers employment opportunities for enrolled nurses, registered nurses and midwives. Please ensure you apply to the right job. If you applied to the wrong designation, please withdraw your application (even if incomplete) before applying to the correct job designation.
- Please ensure you enter your personal details correctly. This includes name, middle name (if applicable) and surname you are known by. This information will be used for employment screening purposes.
- You must enter your personal email address as it will be used for all 2025|GradConnect communication (i.e. notifications, interview bookings and offers of employment). It is important that you check your inbox regularly during key periods of the 2025|GradConnect process.
- Please ensure your email address remains current for the entire recruitment period. If applicable, enter a second back-up email address.
- You will also need to provide a current phone number, as it might be used by recruiters or the GradConnect team to contact you.
- If completing a registered nursing and midwifery dual degree and you plan to register both as a registered nurse and a midwife, you can apply to both registered nursing and midwifery graduate positions. Please ensure you submit 2 separate applications, one for registered nursing and one for midwifery.

Online application steps

Important notes

- An email address is required to apply for jobs advertised on the WA Health jobs page.
- If you have already created an account with WA Health jobs, you can either retrieve that password or create a new profile.
- If you have forgotten your password, please log back in to Search Jobs and click on 'login' (within the left-hand side menu) – you will be redirected to a new page and click on 'forgotten your password?' An email with a temporary password will be sent so you may log back in.

Requiring help?

If you do not receive an email or experience technical issues (including login, passwords and updating application details), please contact the RAMS helpdesk at ramshelpdesk@bigredsky.com or call 1300 733 056.

Submitting your application

- You have until 1pm (AWST) 19 March 2025 to submit your application. To be considered, your application must be submitted before this deadline.
- Please ensure each section of your application is complete.
- Before submitting your application, thoroughly check that you have read and answered all the required questions and review the information you have provided. Incorrect information could prevent your application from being considered.
- Once you have submitted your application, you will not be able to edit or change your information any further.
- Once your application is submitted, you will receive a confirmation email sent directly to the email address listed on your application.

Please ensure you have noted down your login details, password, and application number for future reference.

Editing your application

- If you have not submitted your application, you will be able to edit your application. Note, your application must be submitted no later than 1pm (AWST) 19 March 2025.
- To edit your application, you will need to log back in via Search Jobs, then click on 'login' (within the left-hand side menu) and input your email address and password.
- Once you have submitted your application or the application period has closed, you will no longer be able to edit your application (including updating your selection criteria and preferences).
- If you need to update your personal details, including email address and phone number or if your referee contacts have changed, please email our GradConnect team at GNC@health.wa.gov.au

Applications open online at 9am (AWST) on 24 February 2025

Start preparing your application ahead of the 2025|GradConnect opening date.

Research your prospective employers thoroughly, have all the required documents ready for uploading and prepare your selection criteria in a separate document.

For more information, refer to the 2025|GradConnect applicant checklist.

Selection criteria

You must submit an online written response and address each of the selection criteria for your designated graduate program.

You are required to demonstrate your ability to meet each of the criteria by using nursing and/or midwifery examples from your clinical placements. Consider the necessary requirements by applying your experience, education, transferrable skills, interpersonal skills, attributes, etc.

Read the brief summary of duties document (attached in the advertisement) thoroughly. This will give you the role-specific requirements and provide hints about what you should address in your selection criteria. The panel will assess your application using the brief summary of duties and compare this against your response to the selection criteria.

Your response addressing each selection criteria will be assessed via a standard marking system, regardless of your preference site. Assessment of all applicants will be based on merit.

- Ensure that you have addressed all the selection criteria.
- Addressing only certain parts of the selection criteria will limit your opportunity to be short listed for interview.
- Remember to be concise, precise, and relevant, and keep within the determined word limit:
 - 300 words for enrolled and registered nurses
 - 400 words for midwives.
- Consider asking 2 people to review your work, such as a successful graduate who previously applied through GradConnect, and a clinician or lecturer.

Important notes

- Thoroughly consider each selection criteria. For tips on how to best address selection criteria, please see www.jobsandskills.wa.gov.au
- Explore other resources online and discuss with your education provider or clinical supervisor/facilitator who may offer guidance and support.
- You are encouraged to prepare your response to the selection criteria in a separate word document, then copy and paste these into the online application when you are ready.
- Read about the health service(s) where you wish to apply. Remember to find out about the missions and values of the health service and expectations of the role.

Your application will not be considered if you do not address the selection criteria.

The aim of the selection criteria is to demonstrate you have the right skills and knowledge for the graduate position.

 Always check your spelling, grammar, and correct any typos.

Selection criteria for graduate enrolled nurses

When addressing each of the selection criteria below, please use examples from your clinical experiences (wherever possible) to demonstrate your knowledge. A 300-word limit applies to each question.

1. Demonstrated clinical knowledge and experience in the delivery of evidence-based nursing care within a clinical setting.
2. Demonstrated effective communication and conflict resolution skills within a clinical setting.

Note that as an enrolled nurse, you are not required to upload a current curriculum vitae (CV) when completing the online application.

Selection criteria for graduate registered nurses

When addressing each of the selection criteria below, please use examples from your clinical experiences (wherever possible) to demonstrate your knowledge. A 300-word limit applies to each question.

1. Demonstrated clinical knowledge and experience in the delivery of evidence-based nursing care within a clinical setting.
2. Demonstrated effective communication and conflict resolution skills within a clinical setting.

Note that as a registered nurse, you are not required to upload a current curriculum vitae (CV) when completing the online application.

Selection criteria for graduate midwives

When addressing each of the selection criteria below, use examples from your clinical experiences (wherever possible) to demonstrate your knowledge. A 400-word limit applies to each question.

1. Demonstrates knowledge of and practices in accordance with NMBA's Professional Standards for the Midwife.
2. Demonstrates an understanding of, and commitment to, the provision of woman centred maternity care.
3. Demonstrates effective communication, negotiation and interpersonal skills within a multi-disciplinary team.

Note that as a midwife, you must upload a current curriculum vitae (CV) when completing the online application.

Selection criteria tips

Key words and brainstorming

Each selection criteria will have key words in their statement that needs addressing. Below are some examples:

- 'Demonstrate knowledge': provide examples that demonstrate you possess this area of knowledge. This could include practical experience on placements/jobs, training or courses, and reading journals/literature etc.
- 'Demonstrate an understanding of': provide examples or evidence to showcase your grasp of the topic/concept/subject matter. This may involve how you applied your knowledge, solved a problem, or made informed decisions based on your understanding.
- 'Previous experience in': provide examples relevant to the specific experience indicated in the brief summary of duties. This question is asking for 'when have you done this before?' Your response should include your past placements/employment – use relevant examples.
- 'Effective' or 'Proven': Indicate your level of achievement to the reader/assessor. Provide comprehensive, precise and relevant examples.

Draft your response

- Consider the graduate position you are applying for and ensure that your examples are pitched accordingly. Your examples should be related to the area, specialty and role you are applying for. You should identify why your examples are relevant and meet the requirements.
- Mention any underlying theory/process/system to support your practice, and/or relevant policies, guidelines, or targets.
- Use positive language when talking about yourself. Use active statements, such as "I achieved...", "I implemented...", "I ensured..."
- Use concrete and clear examples, your results/outcome within the example should be evident and highlight your achievements.
- Responses should follow a structured format, such as:
 - STAR – Situation, Task, Action, Result
 - SAO – Situation, Action, Outcome
 - iSoBAR – Identify, Situation, Observation, Background, Agree to a plan, Readback/Result
 - ADPIE – Assess, Diagnose, Plan, Implement, Evaluate.

 Be truthful and confident about your clinical experiences and capabilities.

Important notes

- Focus on your potential and your willingness to learn and grow as a nurse and/or midwife.

Other requirements

1. Referees

You will be required to provide at least 2 referees on your online application.

- You will need to seek prior permission from your referees before listing them on your application.
- We strongly encourage that at least one of your referees is a clinical nurse or midwife (including those working as a clinical supervisor or clinical facilitator).

2. Identification

You will be asked to upload your proof of identification and permanent residency, such as passport, birth or citizenship certificate and current visa status.

3. Curriculum vitae

If applying for a midwifery graduate program, you are required to upload a curriculum vitae. This document should outline qualifications and work experience. No cover letter is required.

Employment preferences

You have the option to select 2 preferences of where you would like to work in Western Australia.

Research your options in advance by visiting the individual participating health services and career webpages. For more information about graduate programs, please see GradConnect.

A wide range of employment opportunities are available across metropolitan, regional, rural, and remote settings. Employment within the large metropolitan hospitals and health services is highly competitive. To increase your opportunity of employment in a graduate program, you are encouraged to select a wide variety of hospitals/sites and health sectors throughout Western Australia.

Rural, remote or community settings offer a wide range of clinical experiences that are not always available in metropolitan areas. In addition, newly qualified registered nurses and midwives who undertake employment in regional WA may be eligible for Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) support HECS-HELP. For more information about WA Country Health Service graduate programs, visit WA Country Health Service - Nursing and midwifery graduate programs.

If you are unsure of your second preference, you can change this by logging onto your online application at any time, up until the application deadline of 1pm (AWST) 19 March 2025.

Important notes

- Choosing the same preference more than once will not increase your chances of gaining employment within that health service.
- Take the time to study your options, i.e., where your preferred facilities are located, the type of positions offered and the different graduate intakes. It is critical that you choose preferences you are prepared to accept.
- Your employment starting period will depend on the completion of your studies and your registration date with NMBA. If you complete your studies and gain NMBA registration in July 2025, your starting date will be from July 2025 onwards.

Interviews

If you qualify for interview, first and/or second preference sites will interview during these times:

First preference sites

20 March to 8 May 2025

Second preference sites

19 May to 12 June 2025

- You must ensure you are contactable and available during the above timeframes. Interview schedules will vary between sites.
- If you are shortlisted, you may be contacted via email or phone to schedule an interview. You will be required to accept or decline your interview attendance at your first/second preference site.
- If you are unable to attend the scheduled interview, you must contact the relevant health service recruiters before the scheduled interview. It will be at the discretion of the health service provider to reschedule the interview.
- Interviews can be attended in person, online or over the phone. The interview format can be discussed with, and organised by, the relevant health service recruiters at your first or second preference site.

Important notes

- Your application will be withdrawn if you:
 - do not respond to the invitation for interview
 - do not attend the scheduled interview.
- All unsuccessful applicants are recommended to seek feedback from the interviewing site. The feedback they provide will help you to improve your selection criteria and/or your interview technique.
- If you were not offered an interview, you are encouraged to seek advice on how to improve your written job application. University career services, lecturers, tutors, and preceptors are good resources.

Interview tips

Below are tips to help you prepare for interview.

- Interview questions will be based on the written selection criteria you have submitted for your online application.
- Interview questions will relate to the Professional standards for practice for enrolled nurses, registered nurses and/or midwives.
- Interviews are about getting to know you and building a relationship with your prospective employer.

Important notes

- Interviews can be stressful, even for experienced nurses and/or midwives.
- To be interview ready, you will have to practice. This gives you the confidence required to be successful.

There are several areas you should consider while preparing for an interview, including:

1. Know your prospective employer and learn about the health service vision, mission, and values. Think about how this aligns to your personal and professional values.
2. Familiarise yourself with the brief summary of duties attached in the job application form. Tailor your answers to highlight how your skills and experience align with the role requirements.
3. Structure your responses and be methodical. This will help you to provide clear, comprehensive, and concise examples about your skills and experiences.
4. Display professionalism, use appropriate body language and demonstrate excellent communication skills.
5. Show your ability to work within a team and remember the importance of demonstrating patient-centred care.
6. Indicate your willingness to seek guidance/support when required, self-reflect on your practice and commitment to life-long learning.
7. Draw examples from your clinical and life experiences.
8. Prepare thoughtful questions to ask during interview. You will learn more about your prospective work environment, team dynamics and expectations.
9. Practice your interview – this will help you demonstrate your knowledge, skills and experience and showcase why you are suitable for the position.

Offers of employment

Offers of employment are made via the GradConnect online recruitment system.

It is your responsibility to be aware of offer dates and ensure you can access your provided email address to accept or decline offers in a specific time frame.

Successful applicants

First preferences

- Offers to successful first preference applicants are made online and you will be notified via email at 12pm (AWST) 9 May 2025.

Second preferences

- Applicants who do not receive an offer from their first preference site may be considered for employment at their second preference site.
- Offers to successful second preference applicants are made available online and you will be notified via email on 12pm (AWST) 13 June 2025.

Accepting or declining an offer

You must accept or decline your offer by the due date.

You have 2 days to respond to your offer and this must be completed online.

- If you accept the first preference offer, you will be offered a contract with your first preference site.

- If you decline a first preference offer, you will not be swept to your second preference site. You will be swept to the pool of remaining applicants to be considered for further opportunities once the recruitment period has ended.

To accept or decline your offer, go to Search Jobs and click on 'login' (within the left-hand side menu). Enter your email address and password. Click on your current application and accept or decline the offer.

Important notes

- If you do not accept or decline the offer within the required time frame, it is assumed you are declining a graduate position within the 2025|GradConnect program. Subsequently, your application will be swept into the pool of remaining applicants
- If experiencing issues with accepting or declining an offer, contact the RAMS helpdesk for assistance at ramshelpdesk@bigredsky.com or call 1300 733 056.

Pool of remaining suitable applicants

If you do not receive an offer from your first or second preference sites, you will remain in a recruitment pool. This means you may be considered for further employment opportunities with 2025|GradConnect participating health service providers.

The following should be noted:

- The panel will monitor this recruitment pool and access applications as required.
- You will be able to select a preferred site for this recruitment pool. Every effort will be made to accommodate your pool preference.
- Appointments may be made from this pool until February 2026.

Important notes

- If you decline an interview you will exit the GradConnect process and your application will be withdrawn.
- Whether you have been successful or not, seek feedback on your performance from your first and/or second preference site. This includes your selection criteria and interview.

- The period for feedback is:

First preference
from 19 to 23 May 2025

Second preference
from 23 to 27 July 2025

- You will be provided with a feedback contact list within your recruitment outcome correspondence.
- Due to the large number of applicants, sites may take up to 4 weeks to provide verbal or written feedback.
- Graduate recruitment is highly competitive, so seeking feedback will help you to improve your selection criteria, enhance your interview skills, and strengthen future job applications.

Employment readiness

WA employment conditions

The terms and conditions of employment in the WA health system (public health system) are in accordance with the following industrial agreements:

- WA health system - United Workers Union \(WA\) – Industrial Agreement 2022
- WA health system - Australian Nursing Federation – Industrial Agreement 2020

Private and aged care sectors are governed by their own sector agreements. Please ensure you are aware of terms of conditions of employment before signing a contract.

2025|GradConnect process starting period

- The employment starting period may occur any time between July 2025 and June 2026.
- Please note that start dates (intakes) vary for each hospital and health service. You are encouraged to thoroughly research all programs.
- Some hospitals or health services may offer graduates part-time employment. You should discuss this at your interview with each hospital or health service. After a candidate is hired, any alterations to the position or requests will be handled on a case-by-case basis by the employing facility.

- If you are offered a graduate position and are not able to start at the agreed start date, you will need to advise the relevant manager at the hospital or health service as soon as possible.
- If you wish to defer your start date, you will need to negotiate this with the individual hospital or health service. Be aware that sites may not be able to accommodate these requests and may advise you to re-apply through GradConnect the following year.

Shift work

- Graduate programs involve shift work, including night shifts and weekend shifts.
- You can discuss program details with the employing hospital or health service at (or before) interview.

Withdrawing from 2025|GradConnect

- At any time of the process, if you wish to withdraw from 2025|GradConnect you must log back into your application and select 'Withdraw'.
- If you had previously received or accepted an invitation to interview, or an offer of employment please inform your first/second preference site you have withdrawn your application. Their contact details can be found on the email that you received inviting you to interview.
- Please note that once you have withdrawn, your application cannot be reconsidered.

Important note

- If you are delayed in completing your studies until after February 2026, withdraw your application and re-apply to the GradConnect program next year. Please ensure that you still meet the eligibility criteria.

What if the unpredictable happens?

- If you have a change in circumstances, and think you may need to defer or withdraw, please contact your graduate recruiter/ coordinator to explore all available options.
- The GradConnect team are also available to help by emailing gnc@health.wa.gov.au

Other employment opportunities

- Undertaking a graduate program is not mandatory for initial or ongoing employment. Once you are registered to practise as an enrolled nurse, registered nurse, and/or midwife, you can gain employment in any health facility within Australia.
- Places within graduate programs are capped for a range of reasons. Although it can be disappointing if you have not been successful, it's important that you don't lose confidence or hope in securing future employment as a nurse or midwife.
- Graduate programs are designed to offer additional support for novice nurses and midwives, to assist your transition to the professional role within busy clinical environments. You can still gain valuable experience in a supportive and learning environment outside of designated graduate programs.
- All nursing and midwifery positions within WA Health process are advertised on the Jobs WA website (external site) and Occupations page.
- The private and non-government sector may also have positions available for newly qualified nurses and midwives.
- There are a wide range of employment opportunities in WA – consider working in rural and remote areas of the state, and in primary and community health care sectors.

Re-apply to GradConnect

If you have not secured a position in 2025|GradConnect, you may be able to reapply to the next GradConnect process, providing that you still meet the eligibility criteria.

Participating health services and intakes

- Participating health services for 2025|GradConnect include:
 - all WA public health services
 - private health services including St John of God Health Care (SJOG)
 - aged care providers including Brightwater, RAAFA and Yaandina Community Services Limited.
 - Health services are responsible for setting their own graduate (or transition to practice) programs, which may vary in length, content, and clinical rotations/experience.
 - You are strongly encouraged to thoroughly research all programs before applying for a graduate program through 2025|GradConnect.
 - The number of positions varies as this is dependent on health services and available vacancies. Be mindful that some areas are more competitive than others
 - The word 'intake' is defined as the starting period for your graduate program. Your starting period will depend on the completion of your studies and your registration date with the NMBA.
 - If you complete your studies and gain NMBA registration by July 2025, you will be eligible to commence employment from July 2025.
 - If you complete your studies and gain NMBA registration by January 2026, you will be eligible to commence employment from January 2026.
- Refer to the pages below listing the graduate programs offered by participating public, private and aged-care providers:
 - 2025|GradConnect Enrolled Nurse Graduate Programs
 - 2025|GradConnect Registered Nurse Graduate Programs
 - 2025|GradConnect Midwife Graduate Programs
 - The information in the tables below has been provided to the best of our knowledge at the time of creating the 2025|GradConnect Handbook. Visit the GradConnect website regularly for any updates.

Review and research your graduate programs intakes to choose the appropriate program for you!

Scholarships and incentives

HECS-HELP

Newly qualified registered nurses and midwives (NQNMs) who work in regional Western Australia (WA) may be eligible to receive funding support towards their Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) loan. NQNMs who undertake employment in regional WA and commence their employment after 1 July 2023 may be eligible for this scheme. For more information, please refer to the HECs help to grow WA's regional nursing and midwifery workforce FAQ sheet.

Country Nursing and Midwifery Incentive Program

The Country Nursing and Midwifery Incentive Program is an incentive scheme designed to support nurses and midwives to work in country WA for longer. Eligible nurses and midwives may receive between $5,000 and $17,000 paid over 12 months. It is available to new and existing nurses working full-time or part-time on fixed-term and permanent contracts across endorsed sites. For more information, please refer to the Country Nursing and Midwifery Incentive Program – FAQs.

Chief Nursing and Midwifery Office scholarships

The WA Chief Nursing and Midwifery Office (CNM Office) values excellence and innovation in nursing and midwifery. Competent and educated nurses and midwives who value lifelong learning are critical to the provision of safe, excellent, and quality patient care.

WA Health, through the CNM Office, offers a range of scholarships for nursing and midwifery students studying in Western Australia. The provision and allocation of financial assistance is based on an accountable and transparent process and is related to WA Health's specific workforce requirements.

Please review the Important information for scholarships for further details and the full eligibility criteria.

Important notes

- Scholarships are granted for one academic semester only. You will need to reapply for subsequent semesters of study.
- Submission of a scholarship application does not guarantee a successful outcome. Scholarships are competitive and are based on current and projected workforce requirements and areas of high clinical need.

General scholarships

If you are interested in furthering your studies, the CNM Office offers scholarships for the following postgraduate qualifications:

- Enrolled Nurse Specialisation
- Registered Nurse Specialisation
- Postgraduate in Midwifery

Targeted scholarships

Targeted scholarships are offered to WA Health nurses working in specialty areas such as mental health and studying selected postgraduate courses in areas of significant clinical need.

For further information on targeted scholarships, please contact nmo.scholarships@health.wa.gov.au

Targeted scholarship eligibility

- WA Health nurses employed in a fixed-term or permanent capacity.
- You must be an Australian citizen, permanent resident of Australia, humanitarian visa holder or a New Zealand special category visa holder who meets the long-term residency.
- International student visa holders are not eligible.

Important notes

If the course is not offered in WA, you may still apply. However, you are required to provide supporting evidence of why you have chosen this course.

Scholarship application dates

Scholarship applications for semester 1 are open between December and February each year, and semester 2 are open between May and July each year. Confirmed application dates will be published on our Scholarships webpage.

Successful applicants for all scholarships will be contacted directly via email with further details.

Please ensure your contact details are current (i.e. provide a personal email rather than your student one).

For more information, please contact the Chief Nursing and Midwifery Scholarship Team:

- Email: nmo.scholarships@health.wa.gov.au

Further help or advice
